

NN, Inc. Announces Anticipated Non-Cash Intangible Asset Impairment Charges

March 13, 2019

CHARLOTTE, N.C., March 13, 2019 /PRNewswire/ -- NN, Inc., (NASDAQ: NNBR) ("NN" or "the Company") a diversified industrial company, today announced that the Company expects to record a non-cash intangible asset impairment charge in its Mobile Solutions and Power Solutions groups in the fourth quarter of its fiscal year ending December 31, 2018 (FY18). The Company does not expect the impairment charge to have any impact on future operations, nor affect its liquidity, cash flows from operating activities, or compliance with the financial covenants set forth in its debt instruments.

In accordance with Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) 350 "Intangibles Goodwill and Other," the Company is required to test its goodwill and other indefinite-lived intangible assets for impairment annually. During the fourth quarter of FY18, NN's market capitalization declined to a level that was less than the net book value of stockholders' equity. NN performed its annual goodwill impairment analysis as of October 1, 2018. The goodwill impairment analysis required the Company to calculate the fair value for each of its business groups, including estimation of future cash flows, which is dependent on internal forecasts, estimation of the long-term growth rate for each operating segment, and determination of weighted average cost of capital. As a result of the analysis, the Company expects to record an impairment loss on goodwill of $73.4 million and $109.1 million for Mobile Solutions and Power Solutions, respectively. NN does not expect to record any such charges for its Life Sciences group.

In addition, as a result of changing market conditions in China, NN determined that the carrying amount of the Company's investment in the Mobile Solutions' China joint venture exceeded its estimated fair market value. As a result, the Company expects to record an impairment charge of $16.6 million against its investment in the China joint venture.

NN, Inc., a diversified industrial company combines advanced engineering and production capabilities with in-depth materials science expertise to design and manufacture high-precision components and assemblies for a variety of markets on a global basis. NN has 51 facilities in North America, Western Europe, Eastern Europe, South America and China.
