

NN, Inc. Launches New Website

January 28, 2014

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn., Jan. 28, 2014 /PRNewswire/ -- NN, Inc. (Nasdaq: NNBR) today announced the launch of its newly revamped website which will allow for improved navigation, enhanced functionality and quick and easy access to important NN information and features. The website also has a comprehensive investor section with updated company news and events, financial and stock information, SEC filings and corporate governance information. The new website goes live today, January 28, 2014 and is located at the same address: <http://www.nnbr.com>.

Rich Holder, President and Chief Executive Officer commented, "We are excited to unveil our new website. The clean and uncluttered design is full of new features to enhance the visitor's experience while showcasing our new company branding and will allow for a more comprehensive understanding of the Company's new strategic vision, our product offerings and solutions, and our global operations."

NN, Inc. manufactures and supplies high precision metal bearing components, industrial plastic and rubber products and precision metal components to a variety of markets on a global basis. Headquartered in Johnson City, Tennessee, NN has 10 manufacturing plants in the United States, Western Europe, Eastern Europe and China. NN, Inc. had sales of US $370 million in 2012.

Except for specific historical information, many of the matters discussed in this press release may express or imply projections of revenues or expenditures, statements of plans and objectives or future operations or statements of future economic performance. These, and similar statements, are forward-looking statements concerning matters that involve risks, uncertainties and other factors which may cause the actual performance of NN, Inc. and its subsidiaries to differ materially from those expressed or implied by this discussion. All forward-looking information is provided by the Company pursuant to the safe harbor established under the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 and should be evaluated in the context of these factors. Forward-looking statements generally can be identified by the use of forward-looking terminology such as "assumptions", "target", "guidance", "outlook", "plans", "projection", "may", "will", "would", "expect", "intend", "estimate", "anticipate", "believe", "potential" or "continue" (or the negative or other derivatives of each of these terms) or similar terminology. Factors which could materially affect actual results include, but are not limited to: general economic conditions and economic conditions in the industrial sector, inventory levels, regulatory compliance costs and the Company's ability to manage these costs, start-up costs for new operations, debt reduction, competitive influences, risks that current customers will commence or increase captive production, risks of capacity underutilization, quality issues, availability and price of raw materials, currency and other risks associated with international trade, the Company's dependence on certain major customers, the successful implementation of the global growth plan including development of new products and consummation of potential acquisitions and other risk factors and cautionary statements listed from time to time in the Company's periodic reports filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission, including, but not limited to, the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2012.

SOURCE NN, Inc.

AT THE COMPANY: Will Kelly, Vice President and Chief Administrative Officer, (423) 743-9151 or AT FINANCIAL RELATIONS BOARD: Marilyn Meek, (General info), 212-827-3773